Observations and planned improvements

- End Call function. In Test 2 the call stayed open after the farewell. Enabling Retell's End Call function makes the agent hang up after disqualification, transfer, busy and handoff messages.
- Do not state allowed ranges in questions. The tenure question sometimes began "between three and fifteen years", which tells the customer the valid range. The prompt is to be updated so only the 75 lakh maximum is ever stated.
- Consistent handoff wording. The handoff sentence varied slightly between calls (the interest-rate mention was missing in Tests 11 and 13). The prompt is to be updated to use fixed wording that always includes "exact interest rates".
- Speech recognition. Several answers were garbled by the speech recogniser ("fifty likes", "Westinshire flat"). In most cases the agent asked a short clarifying question instead of guessing.

Call transcripts

Test 1: Eligible customer (happy path)

Scenario: Residential flat, sole owner, originals available, 50 lakh, salaried with bank income, 1 crore value, 10 years.

Expected: All 7 items captured, no repeats, handoff, call ends.

Result: PASS. Smooth flow. Handled "Only my name" as sole ownership and "salary comes into my bank account" without re-asking.
